One of the prettiest social events of the week was the Kensington given by H. J. Fitzgerald at her home, on South Temple street, for her old friend, Mrs. C. B. Elliott of Minneapolis, Minn., who is a guest of Clark Elliott at the post.

While the invitations announced an informal afternoon, yet the twenty-four guests noted with appreciation the prettiness of the season's flowers throughout the Fitzgerald home. In the parlor and library great bouquets of asters in purple, pink and white were used effectively, while in the dining room a color scheme of yellow and white prevailed. Goldfish, sunflowers and asters were used with pretty effect. Miss Edith Elliott, daughter of guest of honor, Miss Helen Jacobs, Clara Hansen and Miss Marie Fitzgerald assisted in the dining room. Elliott, with her daughter and sons, will leave soon for Manila to her husband, Judge Elliott, upon President Taft recently conferred honor of judge of the supreme court of the Philippines.

Wilkin, who entertained Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Cullen, at a bridge tea in honor of Miss Rae Bartch, a September bride. The dining room the bride's colors, white and blue, were used. Purple and white asters formed the decorations in the parlor and goldfish and sunflowers were massed effectively in the parlor.

The room was beautiful with a profusion of white asters and bright goldfish and sunflowers. In the living room the season's red flowers furnished decorations, while in the pretty dining room sweet peas were used in abundance. There were five tables covered with white and gold, and the guests, captured the first prize, Mrs. Kirk took the second prize. One of the guests of honor received a large bunch of violets.

Mrs. E. J. Roberts and Mrs. M. W. F. entertained at a bridge tea Friday afternoon, complimentary to Miss McMillan, at the home of Mrs. McMillan. The GOOSE GIRL

A NEW NOVEL By HAROLD MAC GRATH

AUTHOR OF
THE MAN ON THE BOX
THE LURE OF THE MASK ETC.

MacGrath has never written so engaging a romance as his new novel, "The Goose Girl." Charm is the word that fits this story. Charm of place—the fragrant, sunny vineyards of the Rhine country. Charm of plot—all our castles in the air come true. Charm of characterization—men and women whom we love to know and know to love.

Charm of style—simple, clear, poetic and humorous. Charm of incident, adventure and of outcome. It glows with kindness, good cheer and love.

It's impossible to read "THE GOOSE GIRL" and keep the sunlight from your soul. A story of many tangled threads; of many characters that come and go and grow as in life, and "bend each wandering step to this one end; that some day out of darkness they shall meet and read life's meaning in each other's eyes."

The cover design of the "Goose Girl" in four colors and gold is painted by Harrison Fisher.
